War Profit Taxes Are Boosted Again

(International News Service.)

Washington, Aug. 29.—Approximately $500,000,000 was added to the levy on war profits under changes made in the revenue bill today by the senate finance committee. The changes make the total increased levy on war profits over a billion dollars.

The committee decided to recommend an amendment to take 60 per cent of profits exceeding 300 per cent. This would hit some of the "war babies" to the extent of many millions. The other rates in the war profits taxes, however, would remain unchanged.

The levy on war profits under the present basis is $226,000,000. The committee first proposed to add $562,000,000. Today's amendment would make a total increase of $1,006,000,000, making the total war profits tax $1,286,000,000.

Cullman County Men Invent Machine Gun With Cotton Bales to Protect Gunner

Remembering the days of the war of 1812, when Andrew Jackson and his "squirrel shooters" securely hid behind bales of cotton for breastworks and defeated 8,000 British regulars, Mr. Shlosser, contractor of Cullman, and a man named Robinson, just over the Morgan county line in that county, have invented a curious looking machine gun which carries a bale of cotton for an armor plate protection.

An effort is being made to get a patent on the invention from the federal government.

The machine is constructed by wrapping a bale of cotton securely both ways with steel wire and fastening a machine gun by the wires to each end of the bale. The bale is placed on a specially prepared truck propelled by a motor. The gunner then may propel the machine right into the enemy's line under the protection of the bale of cotton and may fire by each side of the cotton.

If the machine proves feasible, a new use will be found for cotton, which is already used extensively in military operations.

QUICK DOWNFALL OF CHANCELLOR FIRST EFFECT OF PEACE REJECTION

MICHAELIS WILL BE CAUGHT BETWEEN FIRES OF OPPOSING FORCES IN THE FATHERLAND, WASHINGTON BELIEVES.

WAR SPIRIT TO STIFFEN

BRITISH PRESS FAVORABLY RECEIVES PRESIDENT'S NOTE TO POPE BENEDICT DECLINING HIS GOOD OFFICES.

(International News Service.)

Washington, Aug. 29.—President Wilson's answer to the Pope was praised in the senate today. Senator Brady, republican, of Idaho, declared it was comparable to Washington's farewell address and had it inserted in the record.

"I say that this document will go down in history and that it will mean much to democracy, not only to this country, but throughout the world" said Senator Brady. "While it rejects the Pope's proposal, it points a way for the nations to reach a peace that is fair and honorable."

Washington, Aug. 29.—President Wilson's rejection of the Pope's peace terms means the utter downfall of Chancellor Michaelis of Germany. It also will result in an earlier "show down" between the reform element and the junkers in the German Reichstag. But there was a wide difference of opinion in official circles today as to whether the action of the president will advance or retard the end of the war.

Michaelis, diplomats point out, will go because leaders of both factions are convinced already that he is not strong enough for his important post. If the junkers can control through the slogan they are considered certain to set up that President Wilson's only desire is to crush Germany, they will name a man of their own type who will throw responsibility for a continuation of the war on the United States and fight as long as possible. If the reformers control, then the new chancellor will be Count Von Bernstorff and his acceptance of the offer will be followed by a new peace offer from the German viewpoint. This will include a statement that ruthless submarine warfare has been temporarily abandoned.

There was complete agreement in official circles today that the immediate effect in Teuton countries must be a stiffening of the German war spirit. This is inevitable, officials point out, as the reply must be interpreted by the government-controlled press of Germany.

London, Aug. 29—President Wilson's note rejecting the peace proposals of the Pope was accepted here today as giving the concrete view of all the allied governments. Warm praise for the document was contained in the press comment. Just what effect the American reply will have at the Vatican cannot be forseen at this time.

ITALIANS CONTINUE TO DRIVE AGAINST AUSTRIAN ARMIES

Further Successes Reported For Troops Advancing Against Trieste

RUSSIAN MUTINY HAS SPREAD

Whole Divison on Roumanian Front Retired Without Showing Fight

(International News Service.)

Rome, Aug. 29.—The advancing Italians on the Monta Santo sector have reached the eastern edge of the Bainsizza plateau and are making violent attacks upon the Austro-Hungarian fortifications there, the war office announced today. Strong Austrian counter attacks were made.

(International News Service.)

Petrograd, Aug. 29.—Desertions and mutiny in the Russian army which began in Galicia have now spread to the Roumanian front.

The war office announced today that a whole division of 20,000 Russians north of Fokshani in Moldavia retreated without waiting for a German attack, allowing the Germans to advance unopposed for 24 hours.

(International News Service.)

London, Aug. 29.—The Austro-Italian front has been the chief scene of operations during the past 24 hours. Another brilliant victory for the Italians was reported today.

According to advices from Rome all the Austro-Hungarian positions on the Bainsizza plateau southeast of Monta Santo were carried by storm. Gen. Cadorna's men now are ready to undertake the next phase of the drive against Trieste. The chief obstacle now barring the path of the Italians are two mountain heights, both of which were turned into fortresses by the Austrians and heavily armed. They are Monta Gabriele and Monte Caniele. They must be taken before the town of Aidussina at the junction of several roads north of the Zittazo valley can be overcome.

Another heavy rainstorm has checked operations on the British front in northern France and Belgium. British positions southeast of Langemarck on the West Flanders front have been greatly strengthened as the result of operations during the night. The war office announced today that a strong point still held by the Germans in that sector had been cleared. German snipers and machine gunners had made it hot for the British.

In the Hulluch district in northern France the British made a successful trench raid into the German positions at Gouzeaucourt.

Fair Sex Crew of Street Car a Success

(International News Service.)

Denver, Colo., Aug. 29.—If the first experiment is any criterion, street railway motorwomen and conductresses will prove decidedly popular in this Rocky mountain metropolis. In preparation for a possible shortage of men on account of the war the local tramway company made a trial run with a complete crew of the fair sex. Miss Clara Henderson, in cap and uniform, handled the controls and brakes, while Miss Irene Northburga, doffed up in regulation garb, grabbed off the nickles, passed out transfers and pulled the bell cord. Tramway officials were enthusiastic over the success of the young women in handling the car, which traversed a busy route.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S REPLY SHOULD END PEACE TALK.

President Wilson, acting as spokesman of the allied nations, has submitted to Pope Benedict an answer to the proposals of peace. This reply, couched in the terse English for which Mr. Wilson is famed both at home and abroad, should for the time being dissipate any faint hope that might linger in the minds of the central powers regarding the immediate termination of the war. It is official notice that the issue of democracy vs. autocracy must be determined by the arbitrament of arms.

In the note, which follows closely the lines anticipated by the peoples of the allied nations, one new view only is injected. And that regards the future of Russia. "To deal with such a power (autocracy) by way of peace * * * would result in abandoning the new-born Russia to the intrigue, the manifold subtle interference, and the certain counter revolution which would be attempted by all the malign influences to which the German government has of late accustomed the world," the note says.

Aside from the fact that this is a bold appeal for Russian steadfastness, it is evident that in outlining this phase of the political situation President Wilson has given expression to a fear that in itself would make peace impossible were territorial and other adequate concessions made by the central powers. He has located the ulcer that must be healed before the world is again well. To lay down arms and leave a demoralized Russia as plastic clay in the hands of the German potters who have already moulded sentiment there by means of propaganda, debauching gold and corrupted officials, would be to invite a renewal of the world war at no very distanct date and with the odds in favor of the Huns. The expert and unscrupulous diplomats of Berlin would not find it a difficult matter, through bribery and through socialistic leaning, to sway the Russian masses to their liking.

The dominant note of the president's pronouncement, other than the reference to the Russian situation, is an unalterable and fixed determination to prosecute the war until the world is safe for democracy. This is the only position that America could take. It has no other war aim.

The Birmingham press is divided in opinion as to who was the victor in the settlement of the miner's strike. It was a compromise, of course, with the miners getting practically everything they demanded except a recognition of the union. Actually they got that, for the operators agreed to receive grievance committees and to reinstate men who were discharged because of their affiliation with labor organizations. So long as operators have an association of their own they cannot ask for public sympathy in any fight they make on unionism.

The war profit tax is one that will work no hardships. It affects only those who are able to pay and who are direct beneficiaries of the world struggle. At the most it will take but 50 per cent of the money wrung from the public because of unusual conditions. This leaves a healthy balance to the man who pays. It cannot touch those who are unable to pay.

America's Reply to Pope Benedict's Peace Proffer

"To His Holiness, Benedictus XV, Pope:

"In acknowledgment of the communication of your holiness to the belligerent peoples, dated August 1, 1917, the president of the United States requests me to transmit the following reply:

"Every heart that has not been blinded and hardened by this terrible war must be touched by this moving appeal of his holiness, the Pope; must feel the dignity and force of the humane and generous motives which prompted it, and must fervently wish that we might take the path of peace he so persuasively points out. But it would be folly to take it if it does not in fact lead to the goal he proposes. Our response must be based upon the stern facts and upon nothing else. It is not a mere cessation of arms he desires; it is a stable and enduring peace. This agony must not be gone through with again, and it must be a matter of very sober judgment what will insure us against it.

"His holiness in substance proposes that we return to the status quo ante-bellum, and that then there be a general condonation, disarmament, and a concert of nations based upon an acceptance of the principle of arbitration; that by a similar concert freedom of the seas be established; and that the territorial claims of France and Italy, the perplexing problems of the Balkan states, and the restitution of Poland be left to such conciliatory adjustments as may be possible of the peoples whose political fortunes and affiliations will be involved.

OBJECT OF WAR.

"It is manifest that no part of this program can be successfully carried out unless the restitution of the status quo-ante-bellum furnishes a firm and satisfactory basis for it. The object of this war is to deliver the free peoples of the world from the menace and the actual power of a vast military establishment controlled by an irresponsible government which, having secretly planned to dominate the world, proceeded to carry the plan out without regard either to the sacred obligations of treaty or the long established practices and long cherished principles of international action and honor; which chose its own time for the war, delivered its blow fiercely and suddenly, stopped at no barrier either of law or of mercy, swept a whole continent within the tide of blood—not the blood of soldiers only, but the blood of innocent women and children also, and of the helpless poor, and now stands balked but not defeated, the enemy of four-fifths of the world. This power is not the German people. It is the ruthless master of the German people. It is no business of ours how that great people came under its control or submitted with temporary zest to the domination of its purpose, but it is our business to see to it that the history of the rest of the world is no longer left to its handling.

WOULD RENEW PRUSSIANISM.

"To deal with such a power by way of peace upon the plan proposed by his holiness the Pope, would, so far as we can see, involve a recuperation of its strength and a renewal of its policy; would make it necessary to create a permanent hostile combination of nations against the German people, who are its instruments; and would result in abandoning the new born Russia to the introgue, the manifold subtle interference, and the certain counter revolution which would be attempted by all the malign influences to which the German government has of late accustomed the world. Can peace be based upon a restitution of its power or upon any word of honor it could pledge in a treaty of settlement and accommodation?

RIGHTS OF PEOPLES.

"Responsible statesmen must now everywhere see, if they never saw before, that no peace can rest securely upon political or economic restrictions meant to benefit some nations and cripple or embarrass others, upon vindictive action of any sort, or any kind of revenge or deliberate injury. The American people have suffered intolerable wrongs at the hands of the imperial German government, but they desire no reprisal upon the German people who have themselves suffered all things in this war which they did not choose. They believe that peace should rest upon the rights of peoples, not the rights of governments—the rights of peoples great or small, weak or powerful—their equal right to freedom and security and self-government and to a participation upon fair terms in the economic opportunities of the world—the German people, of course, included if they will accept equality and not seek domination.

"The test, therefore, of every plan of peace is this: Is it based upon the faith of all the peoples involved or merely upon the word of an ambitious and intriguing government, on the one hand, and of a group of free peoples on the other? This is a test which goes to the root of the matter; and it is the test which must be applied.

PURPOSES OF AMERICA.

"The purposes of the United States in this war are known to the whole world—to every people to whom the truth has been permitted to come. They do not need to be stated again. We seek no material advantage of any kind. We believe that the intolerable wrongs done in this war by the furious and brutal power of the imperial German government ought to be repaired, but not at the expense of the sovereignty of any people—rather a vindication of the sovereignty both of those who are weak and of those that are strong. Punitive damages, the dismemberment of empires, the establishment of selfish and exclusive economic leagues we deem inexpedient and in the end worse than futile, no proper basis for a peace of any kind, least of all for an enduring peace. That must be based upon justice and fairness and the common rights of mankind.

CANNOT TRUST KAISER.

"We cannot take the word of the present rulers of Germany as a guarantee of anything that is to endure, unless explicitly supported by much conclusive evidence of the will and purpose of the German people themselves as the other peoples of the world would be justified in accepting.

"Without such guarantees, treaties of settlement, agreements for disarmament, covenants to set up arbitration in the place of force, territorial adjustments, reconstitution of small nations, if made with the German government, no man, no nation could now depend on. We must await some new evidence of the purposes of the great peoples of the central powers. God grant it may be given soon and in a way to restore the confidence of all peoples everywhere in the faith of nations and the possibility of a covenanted peace.

"ROBERT LANSING,
"Secretary of States of the United States of America."

It is hard to understand why any law maker should oppose a plan for raising war revenue so equitable as this.

American efficiency is shown by the fact that although the United States has been in the war but half a year it is already raising an army by conscription. On the other hand, Canada, in the fourth year of the war, has just passed a draft act.

Germany's willingness to accept the terms of Argentina and to withhold her murderous U-boats is a positive indication of the waning power of the Kaiser. Six months ago the Teutons would have answered Argentina's protest by scuttling every vessel in sight.

Once In the Limelight

Being Tales of Those Who Reached the Front Page and Then Dropped Back to Obscurity.

TOD SLOAN.

There was a time when the name of James Todhunter Sloan, better known as "Tod," appeared in the public print almost daily. As a jockey he was perhaps the foremost in the world, and as a man he was an interesting character study.

From a poor boy, reared in the backwoods of Indiana, he became the jockey to King Edward of England and made a considerable fortune which he later lost in various ways.

More than twenty years ago Tod Sloan was a stable boy at the Guttenburg track. He learned the racing game rapidly, and in 1893 he began to attract some attention on New York tracks.

In 1896 he won the Manhattan handicap with Belmar at the Morris track, and also first place in almost every race of prominence that season. In 1898 he established a worldwide reputation and also piled up a fortune for himself when he won the Brighton Cup and the Lawrence Realization Stakes.

Before the 1898 campaign on the New York tracks, Sloan distinguished himself by riding five winners out of six starts. When the season was over in New York he went to England under contract to Lord William Beresford, and in September of the same year piloted five consecutive winners at Newmarket.

Sloan rode Lord Beresford's Sibola to the front in the One Thousand Guineas Race in 1899, and won $20,000 in the Grand Prix the following fall. The late W. C. Whitney then induced Sloan to come to the United States to ride Ballyhoo Bey in the 1900 Futurity, for which he received his entire expenses and a bonus of $70,000.

In 1905 he was ruled off the turf by the English Jockey Club. No particular reason was made public.

Prosperity got the better of Sloan and he began to lose his grip. He was married to Julia Sanderson, an American actress, and later divorced. He then returned to England and was reinstated as a race track adviser, but was not allowed to ride.

Belgium opened her tracks to him and he went there for several successful seasons.

In 1904 he sued and was awarded $40,000 because the Paris Jockey Club ruled him off the turf on charges that were unsustained.

During the early stages of the war in 1914 he went to the front with the American ambulance and saw a great deal of the fighting in the German advance on Paris.

He wrote an account of his observations on the French front which was afterward published in book form in the United States.

In November, 1915, he was deported from England under the Defense of the Realm Act because of alleged activities with gambling houses. He arrived in New York a week later and maintained that he had been the subject of a "frame-up" to cover some prominent women who were conducting a gambling house for the exclusive use of officers on leave.

Sloan went to the west, where he was recently living in seclusion.

STOP THAT ACHE!

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of that pain and lameness! Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Many people have used them and know how effective they are. Here's a Decatur case.

Mrs. J. D. Livingstone, 210 W. Church St., says: "My kidneys weren't acting right and for over a year I was confined to bed suffering from inflammation of the bladder. No one but myself can know the severe pains I endured. My ankles and hands swelled and there were other distressing kidney disorders. I had a dull steady ache in the small of my back and was getting in a bad way when my family doctor recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. After I used one box I was much better. It is now about six years since I took Doan's and I haven't had a bad attack of kidney trouble since."

SENSATION OF THE YEAR IN MEDICINE ON SALE HERE

Calotabs, the New Calomel Tablet That Does Not Gripe, Nauseate Nor Salivate, Proves an Interesting Surprise to Local Druggists.

The horrors of Saturday night Calomel-taking are a thing of the past. According to local druggists, the new de-nauseated calomel tablet is a grand success, the triumph of modern pharmacy. Not the slightest danger of unpleasantness attends its use and yet it exhibits all of the liver-cleansing qualities of the old-style calomel.

There can be no doubt that calomel is the most valuable and universally useful of all medicines and now that its objectionable qualities have been removed its popularity will have no bounds. One tablet on the tongue at bedtime, a swallow of water, no taste or unpleasantness whatever. The next morning you are feeling fine, liver clean, splendid appetite. Eat what you please—no danger. In ordering the new de-nauseated calomel tablets ask for "Calotabs." Sold only in original and sealed packages, containing twenty doses, price thirty-five cents. Your druggist has authority to refund your money if you are not perfectly delighted with Calotabs.

She purchased a thousand cans and a canning outfit and she has been the busiest woman in Athens this summer and as result she has a room at her home filled with canned vegetables, everything almost that grows she has put up in cans after the government receipt and it is a show to go out and look over her store of winter eatables. She has canned on the shares for people, has canned for money and canned everything fit to can. She has taught a lesson that other women of this country should emulate.

AMERICA'S GREAT NEED.

Teaching That Will Lead to Contentment and Stability.

No steam boiler is safe without its provision against overpressure. A perfectly even application of its power to the work it is doing is not possible. All through mechanics runs this same necessity of safeguarding against the surplus of force which must be generated to accomplish the work which the machine is set to do. The safety valve for steam power and the fuse for electric circuits are mechanical essentials.

Sanity, national as well as individual, demands balance. It demands men and women who unite with special practical efficiency in producing an equal skill and wisdom in using products. The most vitally important question of our immediate future is not what wealth and leisure can we achieve as an average for our people, but what shall we do with the wealth and leisure which as an average we do secure.

It is assumed in our educational thought that with more money and leisure will come more contentment and stability. These will only come to a people prepared to secure and understand them. Unless our schools give their pupils this preparation we shall some day need a cataclysm to show us the eternal fitness of things.—Rochester Post-Express.

Uncle Sam and Democracy

Uncle Sam is off to the world war to help "make the world safe for democracy." But, alas, that battered old crown of his is a hundred years behind the times. The world has come into an understanding of democracy so broad that men folks who try to deny the right of self government to women folks are losing foothold in every country in the civilized world. In England, Russia, Canada, Denmark, Norway, Iceland, Finland, Australia, New Zealand, women have the right of self government.

CRIMSON CLOVER

By E. F. Cauthen, Associate Agriculturist, Alabama Experiment Station.

Prepared by Extension Service, Auburn, Ala.

Crimson clover can be made a profitable crop on most farms in Alabama. It is primarily a soil improvement crop, but it can be used for hay, winter cover crop, and grazing. This clover will grow on almost any kind of soil that is well drained and has humus. On poor sandy land that has its humus burnt out by long continuous cropping in cotton or corn, it makes a poor growth the first year; but as the supply of organic matter increases and the soil becomes thoroughly inoculated, the growth of clover will become greater.

Crimson clover may be planted in the cotton or corn middles or on especially prepared land. When planted in inter-tilled crops like corn and cotton the seed may be sown broadcast and covered with a large scrape and scooter or "gee whiz" harrow. These implements will not do much damage to the crops if the plants have not fallen down, and short single trees are used.

To make a good seed bed the land should be plowed early enough to permit the surface being firmed by rain. The fact that it requires a firm seed bed to get a satisfactory stand should not be overlooked, nor be taken to encourage careless preparation.

Most lands need to be inoculated to grow crimson clover successfully. This may be done by inoculating the seed with soil from some neighbor's crimson clover field, or place where one of the true clovers has grown. The seed may be mixed with the damp soil and both sown together. This should be done some cloudy day or in the evening, as the direct sun's rays tend to kill the bacteria.

A second way to inoculate seed is to put the inoculating soil in a bucket and cover it with water. Dip the clover seed in the muddy water and spread them out in the shade to dry. They should not be kept damp long, as they will sprout quickly.

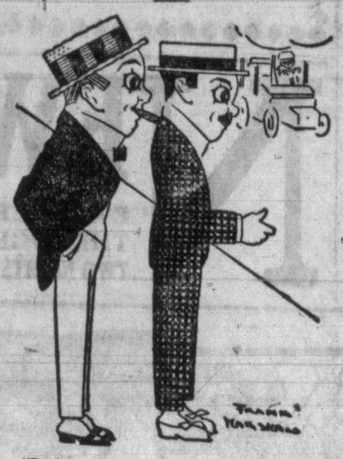

The cleaned seed are planted at the rate of 15 to 20 pounds per acre. They may be sown by hand, or with a seeder, and covered lightly, one half to one inch deep.

The best time to plant is from 15th of September to the 1st of October. About the autumnal equinoxial gale period several days of cloudy weather usually occur that affords favorable conditions for planting. The plants are so tender when they first come up that they can't stand much dry, hot weather.

If you wish to secure a good growth the first year, make a liberal application of stable manure in the preparation of the land or as a top dressing after the plants come up. The stable manure not only fertilizes the plant, but also aids in inoculating the soil.

Some causes of failure are a lack of proper inoculation of soil; sowing when weather is too dry and hot; sowing so late that the young plants freeze before becoming firmly rooted; and planting poor seed.

HARTSELLE HAVING A WARM FIGHT

TWO CANDIDATES FOR COMMISSIONER HAVE HATS IN RING.

Hartselle, Ala., Aug. 29.—(Special.) John R. Sample, city attorney, and J. R. Howell, a prominent insurance man, have qualified as candidates for city commissioner to fill the vacancy caused by J. M. Simpson's term expiring. A great deal of interest centers in the race which promises to be a warm one.

Irwin Quinn, the 14-year-old son of Rev. R. L. Quinn, who has suffered nearly a month with blood poisoning in foot and leg, has successfully undergone a fourth operation, which it is hoped will save the limb. Dr. W. P. McAdory, of Birmingham, assisted by Drs. W. H. Lovelady, R. B. Sherrill and Jno. D. Sherrill, performed the operation Sunday and the little fellow is making a brave fight for life and limb. Irwin and his brother, Charlie, just a little older, have made a crop every year since they were large enough to plow, have not missed a school term and have always made fine grades, and during vacation employed their full time in some useful work. This summer a large body of timber near town was being marketed and these boys, wearing heavy work shoes and clothes, were putting in the winter's supply of stove wood by following the timber men and utilizing tree tops and other timber not suitable for saw stock. Irwin's heavy shoe caused an abrasion of the skin on his foot, but he paid little attention to it. Later the foot began to swell and inflame. It was operated on three times and drain tubes inserted, the little fellow suffering excruerating pain with the hardihood of a man. The physicians in charge thought it best that he not see the many callers, but Irwin insists on every one being admitted to his room where he greets them with a fleshing, cheerful smile that is an inspiration within itself. He says he can stand the pain all right now but that before the last operation he just dreaded to see the doctors coming. The Rev. Quinn is the pastor of the First Baptist church here and most prosperous and well-to-do and reared his boys to work in order to make men of them.

CRACKED HINDENBURG'S SHINS WHEN IN SCHOOL.

(International News Service.)

Cleveland, O., Aug. 29.—Field Marshal Von Hindenburg was very shy as a boy, and Ferdinand Bromske, 74, can't imagine him as a stern commander in the field. Bromske and Von Hindenburk attended the same school back in Neudeck. Once, when Bromske was playing "shinny," he cracked the shins of Von Hindenburg, but the latter did not take offense. Maybe that was because he was five years younger than Bromske.

Bromske was a cabinetmaker, and he says that he made coffins for two of Von Hindenburg's cousins who were killed in the war with France in 1870.

AMUSEMENTS

Masonic Theatre Friday and Saturday night to Present the First of Selznick's Super Pictures, "The Common Law," With Clara Kimball Young.

The management of the Masonic theatre takes special pride in the announcement that Clara Kimball Young will be shown here on Friday and Saturday night in the widely advertised Selznick picture production of Robert W. Chambers' famous novel, "The Common Law."

Few screen productions have attracted the advance attention that this picture has aroused, and from all reports it will prove the greatest of Miss Young's many successes.

The story of the book has been faithfully adhered to, and under the masterly direction of Albert Capellani, it has been filmed as a six-part photoplay of unusual beauty and dramatic power.

Mr. Lewis J. Selznick, the noted film producer, founder and president of the Clara Kimball Young Corporation, has surrounded the star with a brilliant cast including such names as Conway Tearle, Paul Capellani, Edna Hunter, Lillian Cook, Julia Stuart, Edward M. Kimball, Lydia Knott and D. J. Flannigan.

The story relates the romance of Valerie West, artist model, and Louis Neville, an artist. The scenes are mainly set in the heart of New York City and reveal one of the most interesting phass of life in that Metropolis.

Fails as Officer, to Go as Private

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 29.—To be willing to serve as a buck private in the draft army after having failed to secure a commission at a training camp, denotes patriotism of a high order. Roy L. Mitchell, of Tullahoma, was in the officers reserve corps training camp at Fort Oglethorpe, from which place he received an honorable discharge on July 31. He now desires to be among the first to go in the draft army from his county, and wrote a letter to the chairman of the Middle Tennessee district exemption board, asking that he be included among the first 5 per cent of men from his county to be sent to Atlanta on the 5th of next month.
